Fushimi Inari Taisha

Fushimi Inari Taisha

Fushimi Inari was dedicated to the Gods of rice and sake by the Hata family in the 8th century. With seemingly endless arcades of vermilion shrine gate across a thickly wooded mountain, this vast complex is a world unto itself. One of the most impressive and memorable sights in Kyoto.

Kiyomizudera

Kiyomizudera

A buzzing hive of activity perched on a hill overlooking the basin of Kyoto, Kiyomizudera is one of Kyoto's most popular and most enjoyable temples. It may not be a tranquil refuge, but it represents the favored expression of faith in Japan

Asakusa & Sensoji

Sensoji is the spiritual home of Tokyo's ancestors. This Buddhist temple was founded over 1000 years before the city started. Today it remains an alluring, lively atmosphere redolent of Edo (old Tokyo) and the merchant quarters of yesteryears. The colorful Nakamise street arcade is approaching the temple complex overflow with vendors selling snacks and souvenirs.

Asakusa

Harajuku

Takeshita Street (Harajuku)

Harajuku is one of the most extensive gathering points for Tokyo's diverse fashion tribes. Tightly packed shopping bazaar Takeshita-dōri is a beacon for teens all over Japan.

Your last stop today will be Shibuya. This place is the Tokyo you've dreamed about and seen in movies: the frenetic pace, the mind-boggling crowds, the glowing lights, and the giant video screens beaming larger-than-life celebrities over the streets.
